I have to thank you for another kind letter, & the blessed tho' care causing account of yourself & your proceedings for your sacred cause; that it and you will be blessed I have no doubt we ever had; but I trust still further that it will than God to preserve you long to overlook and aid & rejoice in the success of this our work. Have kind wishes of good friends your kind feelings toward us all only binds us the closer to you we do all I am ever heartily pray for every blessing temporal & eternal for you that you can desire; for we are very certain they are such only as a true heart desires.

I forward by this Post your letter to Lady Palmer at my word girls admire so much they have copied it as their word of comfort and their private property, & no private intemperance. I send forth I am again called to Leader, & expose in political strife which was it not a public duty I should most anxiously avoid. We may if we much fear that in London we are steady Pilot and Liverpool from the helm on Nation is not likely to maintain so connot and peaceful a course; but He who rules all things will I trust for the sake of His Church be patient to us. Good where is with my zealous friend Sir M.
Lewis the firm & undaunted friend of the true Protestant cause; he is warmly attached to him, and the excellent people of Armagh (Belfast) united him most kindly. He made at the most impressive speech at the anniversary one of the briefest & most powerful knowledge, that I ever heard. - The Duke of Clarence was present & was much interested with it but he has so much to do in him I fear. I thank you much for writing in my name to Lord M.

Wm. I highly value his present as coming from one upon
so truly respected and well as for its own extrinsic value.

My excellent Aunt is still sitting by me & begs specially be kind respects & is always thankful to hear of your health & prosperity & that of your family & no other more ardently wishes you good happiness or your sacred cause than she does. The good Bishops of Salisbury & Bath & Wells are your zealous friends. Two more learned Bishops have filled sees in England.

I have to day had this my first School 1/2 yearly Exam - I had 130 children all present, & thank God they seemed strongly impressed, especially the older ones with the truths of that knowledge which also has no value. My next examination will be on Friday at my pet School Perry where I hope I shall reach 200 percent. All our minds
